

Help Us Promote Your Listings

Since 2001, Catylist has remained steadfast in our mission to help local communities come together to share information and help broker members break free from their reliance on high-priced national services.

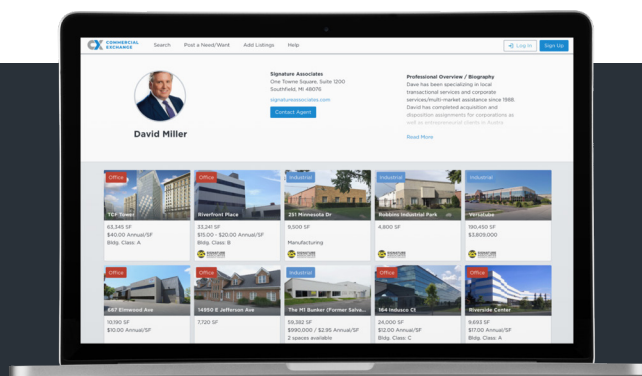

Free National Exposure

As a member of a Catylist-powered local-market platform, your listings now have free national exposure on CommercialExchange.com, our public-facing, national marketplace that launched in April 2019.

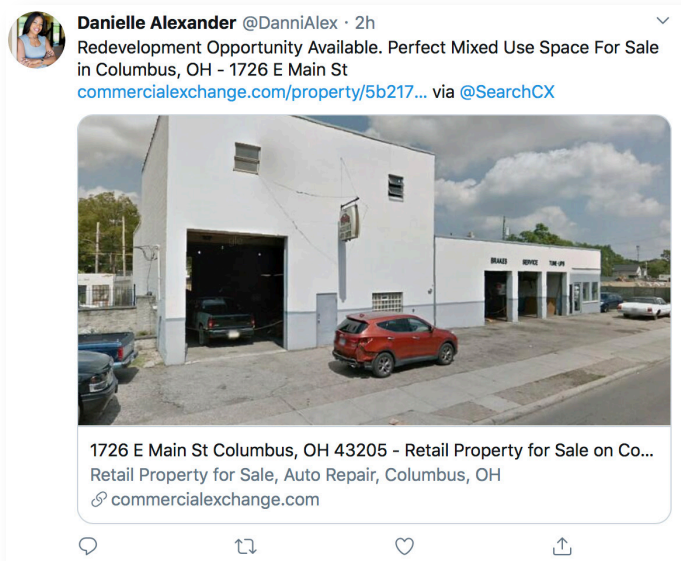

Your Agent Page

Brokers and agents: You have an agent profile displaying all your listings on Commercial Exchange. Place this link on your website and all over social media. Find the “Share Your Listings” button on your Catylist dashboard to find the link.

The more traffic we drive to Commercial Exchange together, the more leads your listings will get!

- Share your listings to your social channels often. We've made it easy to share your listings. Simply click the “Share your listings” link on your Catylist dashboard.
- Event collateral: If you are sponsoring any community events, we encourage you to drive traffic to your agents' listings through the public search on Commercial Exchange. Advertise the message: “Search on Commercial Exchange for Commercial Property Listings.”
- Share with local press contacts. Local business journals and commercial real estate blogs want to stay abreast of local transactions. Share your company's newsworthy listings with news outlets so they can report on commercial property happenings in your market and increase exposure to the free search on Commercial Exchange.

All leads from Commercial Exchange are displayed in your Catylist dashboard so you can easily follow up.
